

Books by Janet Lawler
(www.JanetLawler.com)

If KISSES WERE COLORS (Dial, 2003)

A poem, comparing parental love to wonders of the natural world.
Illustrated by Alison Jay.

"...This affectionate volume will induce a contented feeling as surely as it will inspire loving kisses. All ages." Publishers Weekly

Hardcover

ISBN# 0-8037-2617-1

Full text board book edition, December, 2010

ISBN# 0-8037-3530-8

978-0-8037-3530-9

"Little Letters" edition (Grosset & Dunlap, 2013)

ISBN# 978-0-4484-6389-6

A FATHER'S SONG (Sterling, 2006)

The shared joy of a day in the park highlights the bond between a father and child. Illustrated by Lucy Corvino.

"...an excellent book for reading aloud and sharing one-on-one."

School Library Journal

ISBN# 1-4027-2501-9

978-1-4027-2501-2

A MOTHER'S SONG (Sterling, 2010)

A mother and child share and enjoy nature throughout the seasons.
Illustrated by Kathleen Kemly.

“...a breezy message about motherly love.” Publishers Weekly

ISBN# 978-1-4027-6968-9

A MAMA BUG’S LOVE (Little Simon, 2006)

This sturdy pop-up board book, featured in Sesame Street Magazine, and illustrated by Rick Peterson, is a mama bug love fest:

“Bumblebee hums lullabies that sound just like a buzz. She waits until her brood’s asleep to snuggle baby’s fuzz.”

ISBN# 1-4169-1548-6
978-1-4169-1548-5

TYRANNOCLAUS (HarperCollins Children’s Books, 2009)

This prehistoric Christmas Eve adventure, full of action and delight, is illustrated by John Shroades.

“...Young dino devotees will enjoy the rhyming text and dramatic combination of Christmas, dinosaurs and steaming hot lava.”
Kirkus Reviews

ISBN# 978-0-06-117054-6

SILLY GHOSTS (Jumping Jack Press, 2011)

Silly Ghosts pop out of this delightful, large book to surprise and entertain little ones.

ISBN# 978-1605807089

SNOWZILLA (Two Lions Press, 2012)

Cami Lou and her brother build the biggest snowman ever, but will they be able to save Snowzilla when a judge rules he's got to go?
Illustrated by Amanda Haley.

"Lawler opens with this Dr. Seuss-like stanza: 'It snowed without stopping/for week after week./When it ended at last,/Cami Lou took a peek.' ..."
School Library Journal

ISBN# 978-7614-6188-3

OCEAN COUNTING (National Geographic Children's Books, 2013)

Breathtaking undersea photographs and kid-friendly facts about interesting ocean life help little ones learn how to count from one to ten. Photographs by Brian Skerry.

Named a 2014 Outstanding Science Trade Book by the Nat'l. Science Teachers Association.

ISBN# 1426311168

ISBN# 978-1426311161

SILLY SKELETONS (Jumping Jack Press, 2013)

This pop-up book features trick-or-treating skeletons that fool the neighborhood with their very "real" costumes.

ISBN# 978-160580986-1

LOVE IS REAL (HarperCollins, 2014)

Love is in “the little things” shared from sunrise to sunset by families of foxes, bunnies, and bears. Illustrated by Anna Brown.

“In impeccably rhymed couplets, Lawler (Snowzilla) makes the case that love is all about actions in a story that feels simultaneously old-fashioned and of-the-moment...”

Publisher’s Weekly

ISBN# 978-0-06-224170-2

RAIN FOREST COLORS (Nat. Geographic Children’s Books, 2014)

Kids learn about colors and rain forest animals in this stunning picture book that features fabulous photos complemented by spare text, fun facts, a color quiz, and more. Photographs by Tim Laman.

*Starred review from Kirkus!

ISBN# 978-1-4263-1733-0

SILLY HAUNTED HOUSE (Jumping Jack Press, 2015)

Silly Ghosts pop out of this delightful, large book to surprise and entertain little ones.

ISBN# 1623482623
978-1623482626

SANTA’S TREE (Jumping Jack Press, 2015)

Woodland animals decorate their tree and surprise Santa with a personalized greeting! Interactive and pop-up elements will delight all ages.

ISBN# 162348264X
978-1623482640

THE PREHISTORIC GAMES (Pelican Publishing Company, 2016)

Every thousand years, a torch is lit in volcanic flames to start the Games! Wings flap, tails swish, and crowds roar for determined prehistoric competitors vying for medals in this vibrant and rollicking read aloud.

ISBN# 1455621382
978-1455621385

LOOKING FOR A LULLABY (Grosset & Dunlap, 2016)

ISBN # 0399541446
978-0399541445

ARCTIC CHRISTMAS (Jumping Jack Press, 2016)

North Pole animals share their holiday excitement with penguin friends from the south. Readers get to join in with interactive, pop-up fun.

ISBN # 1623483646
978-1623483647

SCARY PLANTS! (Penguin Young Readers, 2017)

This level 4 reader provides a peek at fascinating, scary plants that can sting, prick, trap, or poison as they protect themselves or capture food! Fabulous photos complement this text developed with Smithsonian Gardens.

ISBN# 0451533712
978-0451533715